SELECTED WRITINGS OF SAINT STANISLAUS PAPCZYŃSKI [TRANSLATED FROM ORIGINAL LATIN]

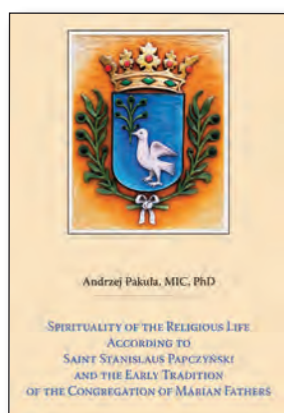

Translating the works of St. Stanislaus of Jesus and Mary Papczyński into English is a project that has taken more than a decade to complete. This collection of the majority of the available writings, letters, and documents of the Founder of the Marians – was translated from the original Latin by a team of Marian priests and brothers and lay people. The first document in the volume is the Rule of Life – the most representative example of the spirituality of Father Papczyński and the Congregation of Marian Fathers (which he founded in 1670). The subsequent writings in the volume are arranged in order of length, from the most extensive to the shortest. Each of them contains an introduction explaining the nature, circumstances and meaning of the work, and most of them have a bibliography. Readers are also provided with a biographical timeline and a chronological list of the existing and lost writings of St. Stanislaus. The publication of this monumental work is yet another way to commemorate the 350th jubilee of the foundation of the Marians of the Immaculate Conception.

SPIRITUALITY OF THE RELIGIOUS LIFE ACCORDING TO SAINT STANISLAUS PAPCZYŃSKI AND THE EARLY TRADITION OF CONGREGATION OF MARIAN FATHERS

Andrzej Pakuła, MIC, PhD

Among those who enriched the 17th-century Church with a new form of the religious life in Poland, Saint Stanislaus Papczyński († 1701) – the Founder of the first native (Polish) religious congregation – stands out as a prominent person. It is fortunate that the task of researching the problem of the spirituality of the religious life according to St. Stanislaus and the early tradition of the Congregation of Marian Fathers was undertaken also by a Marian, Fr. Andrzej Pakuła. From the relative wealth of the source materials, he extracted the fundamentals of this community's spirituality of the religious life (from the Preface).
